

Questions following No Net Loss presentation to Dungeness River Management Team October 12, 2011

Are noxious weeds one of the indicators?

What is the date of the baseline?

Between now and the implementation of the updated SMP, much could be gained by enforcing the current SMP.

The indicator tracking needs to be not only spatially explicit, but explicit over time.

An indicator could be the permitting and variances granted over time.

If a house is permitted by the County and it falls into the river or into the Strait, causing resource damage, who is liable? Whose property right takes precedence – the public property right or the private property right?
